

AECOM Canada Benefits For your world.

Make sure you have the coverage
you and your family need to be well and thrive.

Your AECOM benefits

AECOM provides a health and dental plan for you and your family, and basic life and accidental death & dismemberment (AD&D) insurance for you. AECOM pays the majority of the cost of the health and dental benefits and the full cost of basic life and AD&D insurance.

You can choose to purchase optional life insurance for you and your spouse. November 6 – 22, 2023, you have a special one-time opportunity to choose optional life insurance without providing information about your health — up to $100,000 for yourself and $10,000 for your spouse. To enrol, visit the AECOM Benefits Service Centre enrolment website or call a benefits expert (see contact details in the box on the right side of this page).

Enrolling in your benefits

You will be automatically enrolled in the AECOM health and dental plan on your hire date. You must add your spouse and/or dependents to your health and dental plan within 31 days of your hire date. You can also select beneficiaries for your life insurance, AD&D insurance, retirement and savings plans. Go to How to review and update your benefits to get started.

You can only opt out of the plan if you have coverage through your spouse's benefits plan. If your spouse loses health and dental benefits, you will have 31 days to opt in to AECOM benefits plan without needing medical evidence of insurability.

Who is eligible?

AECOM's health and dental benefits cover regular full-time and part-time employees in Canada who work at least 20 hours a week. Casual employees (temporary and on-call) are not eligible for health and dental benefits. All employees in Canada are eligible for the retirement benefits plan, although temporary and on-call employees must wait six months to join the Defined Contribution Pension Plan (DCPP).

The following dependents are eligible for the AECOM Benefits Program as long as they are enrolled in a provincial health care program:

- Your legal spouse, or your common-law spouse with whom you have lived for at least one year, of either sex
- Your unmarried dependent children, under age 21
- Your dependent children attending college or university full time, under age 25. (Every year, you will be asked to confirm their status as full-time college or university students).
- Your physically or mentally handicapped children of any age if they are wholly dependent on you for support.

Sun Life Health Plan Extras

The AECOM Sun Life health plans give you access to information on a variety of topics to help you be well, including fitness, nutrition, weight management, mental health, quitting tobacco, pregnancy, preventive care, conditions such as heart disease and diabetes, and more.

Pre-authorization for some prescription drugs

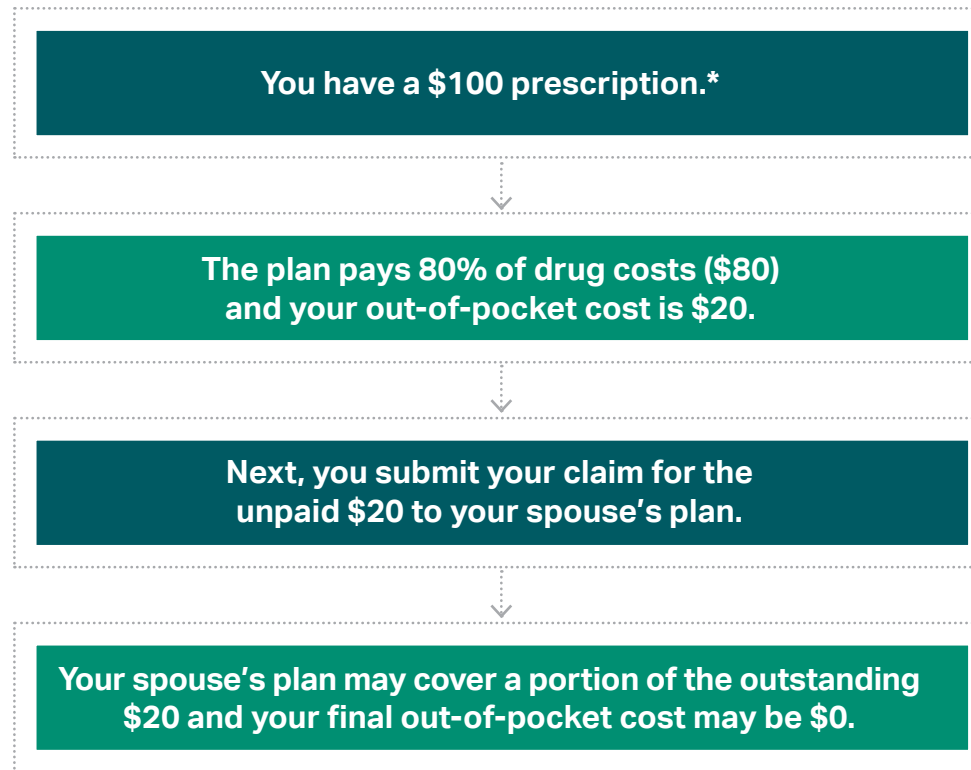

To manage costs, our medical plan covers the least-costly alternative prescription drug, which will often be a generic. In addition, some costly prescription drugs require prior authorization (pre-approval) before they can be dispensed. This pre-approval step affects certain drugs and biologic therapies which have been identified based on cost and on medical criteria.

If your doctor recommends a drug that requires pre-approval, contact Sun Life and submit a completed prior authorization form for approval before filling the prescription. Sun Life will reply in writing within five business days. If the request is approved, the drug cost will be reimbursed according to the coverage provided in your health care module. If Sun Life does not approve the request, you can still obtain the drug but it will not be reimbursed by the plan. Prior authorization is required for some, but not all, of the drugs used to treat certain inflammatory conditions, asthma, blood disorders, cancer (oral drugs), cholesterol disorders, diabetes, heart disease, hepatitis, HIV, lupus, multiple sclerosis, muscle-nerve disorder, osteoporosis, pulmonary arterial hypertension, and some rare diseases. Biologics used to treat conditions such as rheumatoid arthritis, Crohn's disease, psoriatic arthritis, ankylosing spondylitis, and plaque psoriasis also require pre-approval.

See the Prior Authorization Drug List and Forms.

Coordinating benefits with your spouse

Coordinating benefits with your spouse's health care coverage is a great way to maximize the value of both benefits plans. By coordinating benefits, you and your spouse may be able to have up to 100% of your expenses reimbursed. To do this, you each enrol as dependents in the other's benefits plan, along with your dependent children. Here's how it works:

* Equal to the reasonable and customary cost of the expense.

For your dependent children, send the claim first to the insurance company of the spouse who has the earlier birth month in the year. If both spouses have the same birth month, then send claims to the one whose birth date is earlier. Then send any unpaid portion to the other spouse's plan.

Log in at mysunlife.ca/aecom for coordination of benefits guidelines and examples.

Life and AD&D

Basic life insurance

AECOM automatically provides you with company-paid life insurance of $50,000. Coverage reduces to $25,000 at age 65 and terminates when you retire.

Optional life insurance

You can also buy additional optional life insurance for you and your spouse as follows:

- You — Units of $10,000 to a maximum of $250,000, subject to evidence of insurability
- Spouse — Units of $10,000 to a maximum of $250,000, subject to evidence of insurability

Optional employee coverage ends when the employee retires or reaches age 70. Optional spouse coverage ends when the employee retires or reaches age 70 or when the spouse reaches age 70, whichever happens first.

The cost of optional life insurance for you and your spouse is based on age, gender and smoker status. You must declare your smoker status when you buy optional life insurance — if you do not, your rates will be calculated as if you were a smoker. You pay for this coverage through regular payroll deductions.

You can find optional life insurance costs on the AECOM Benefits Service Centre website.

Special opportunity to elect coverage with no health information

Evidence of Insurability (EOI) is proof of an individual's good health, which the insurance company requires before approving optional life insurance. EOI is normally required for all optional life insurance for employees and their spouses. You provide it by completing a Sun Life Statement of Health form.

November 6 – 22, 2023, you have a special one-time opportunity to choose optional life insurance without this health information requirement — up to $100,000 for yourself and $10,000 for your spouse. To enrol, visit the AECOM Benefits Service Centre enrolment website or call a benefits expert (see contact details in the box on page 2).

DECISION TIP

Life insurance benefits are paid in a tax-free, lump-sum payment. Here are some questions to ask yourself when deciding whether to buy optional life insurance:

- How much money would your family need if you, your spouse or your child were to die?
- Are there alternative sources of income that your family could rely on if you or your spouse died?
- Are there significant long-term expenses in your family's future, such as a mortgage or school tuition?
- Are there resources to pay for a funeral if you or a family member dies?
- Do you and your spouse have other individual or group life insurance coverage? If so, is that coverage adequate for your needs, and is it competitively priced?

You can also check out the life insurance calculator offered through Sun Life to determine how much life insurance is right for you.

Basic Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) insurance

AECOM automatically provides you with company-paid AD&D insurance of $50,000. Coverage reduces to $25,000 at age 65 and terminates when you retire.

How AD&D insurance works

- AD&D insurance pays a lump-sum, tax-free benefit if you die or are seriously injured due to an accident. It applies around the clock, not just while you're at work.
- If you die as the result of an accident, the AD&D benefit is paid in addition to life insurance.
- Benefits are only paid as the result of an accident, so evidence of insurability is never required.
- The AD&D benefit is paid to your beneficiary if you die. It's paid to you if you're seriously injured.

Protect your loved ones by updating your beneficiaries

One of the most important ways you can protect your financial well-being is by designating your beneficiary(ies) — the person or persons you want to receive your life and AD&D benefits and retirement account balances if you die. You can change beneficiaries at any time and, in fact, it's a good idea to review and update your beneficiary information to make sure all the information is complete and up to date. If you die and have no beneficiaries on file or if your beneficiary information is outdated, there could be a significant delay in payment (or no payment at all) during an already challenging time for your loved ones.
